Occupation Forces' Payment Believed Insured by Separate German Treaty.

By David Lawrence, (Special Correspondent of The Eve-ning World.)

WASHINGTON. March 13 (Copyright, 1922).-The United States Govrnment declines to believe that the Allie- will ignore the claim of $241,-90,000 for the expenses of the Amercan Army of Occupation in Gernany, Secretary Hughes insists that ny every legal and moral right arisng from the armistice agreement itself, as well as subsequent treaty retatiorships between the United States and Germany, the claim is absolutely What Commissioner Enright Told

As to whether the Allies will give America her share of the German eparation money at this time or perely will recognize America's conention and defer payment along with other obligations arising out of the war, that's quite another question. The impression is given out in offi-cial quarters that the United States with all of its wealth is not going to bedevil distressed Europe for the pay-ment of that $241,000,000, but is, on the other hand, going to make sure that some other Government doesn't equire $241,000,000 which doesn't elong to it.

Although the disagreement which has arisen has in it all the potentialies of a fufl-fledged controversy, ranking in importance with the un olved dispute over mandates, the isposition of the American Government is to pour oil on the troubled waters. No effort will be made to revive old questions or to allow the scussion to grow embittered. Department of State is endeavoring make the best case it can out of the legal mess in which the United States was plunged by the inaction of the United States Senate on the Ver-this morning entered and demanded liquor. When it was not forthcoming they drew revolvers, forced Koniger into a rear room and then robbed the cash rogister of $28.

Koniger followed the three when they left and as they separated he trailed after one of the men. At Second Avenue and 97th Street he pointed out this man to Patrolman Rayfield of the East 194th Street Station. The man, looking back and seeing Koniger talking with the policeman, took to his heels, with Rayfield in pursuit.

The chase went north on Second Avenue and then westward in 98th Street, where Rayfield threatened the fugitive with a shot. This stopped him. He said he was Martin Mulvey, thirty-five, of No. 1233 Webster Avenue, the Bronx. Mr. Hughes holds the view that the separate treaty between Germany and the United States gives this Govern ment all the benefits which it would have derived out of the Versailles

Although officials discuss temper tely the reported unwillingness of the He was identified by Koniger as one of the hold-up men. No weapon was found upon him and there was only a small sum of money in his pockets. Allies to recognize America's claim to reparation money for the Army of Occupation, they show an earnestness of viewpoint which indicates complete surprise at the European attitude. To the argument that America appears on the scene too late to claim OWNER ROBBED OF $122

America never dreamed anybody in Europe would question the right of the United States to be paid, and no mention was made of the subject because of a supposition that, of course, as the last metal and a senters of the stabbing occurred, and Thomas Calozzo, a waiter there, were need the United States to be paid, and no mention was made of the subject because of a supposition that, of course, answer is made that Mrs. Brunen will be asked about the stabbing occurred, and Thomas Calozzo, a waiter there, were need that the stabbing occurred, and Thomas Calozzo, a waiter there, were need that the stabbing occurred, and Thomas Calozzo, a waiter there, were need that the stabbing occurred, and Thomas Calozzo, a waiter there, were need the subject because of a supposition that, of course, and the stabbing occurred, and Thomas Calozzo, a waiter there, were need the subject because of a supposition that, of course, and the stabbing occurred, and Thomas Calozzo, a waiter there, were need the subject because of a supposition that, of course, and the stabbing occurred, and Thomas Calozzo, a waiter there, were need the subject because of a supposition that, of course, and the subject because of a supposition that, of course, and the subject because of a supposition that the subject because of the subject the Allies would take care of it.

Action was taken by the American Government, it is pointed out officially, only when it appeared that the Suropean Governments were about to dispose of some German assets without even consulting the United States. A high Administration official privileged to speak for the Government here, made a particular point to-day of the fact that the American Army of Occupation was kept on the Rhine the Morrisania police, but detectives solely because of the desire of the Allies that it should be there-not because it had any especial American purpose to serve. To refuse to pay the expenses of an occupation so eagerly desired by Europe would, in AND ROBBED OF $1,145 the opinion of the American Government, be preposterous. Secretary No. 404 East 151st Street, with $700 Hughes will not believe it till he gets worth of Liberty bonds, $445 in cash a concrete statement from the Govern ments themselves-press reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

> If the Allied Governments ignore the American request, the chances are the question will get into politics on this side because the Democrats have been insisting from the beginning that a separate peace treaty with Germany as well as ratification of the Versailles Treaty and that American memberon the Reparations Commission would have saved the United States its present embarrossments
